The Latter-Day English.

The English nation, as represented by the English press, seems to have fallen into a perfect passion of self-detraction. Journal after journal falls into line, and exerts all its strength and expends all its eloquence in the endeavor to describe the depth of depravity into which the nation has descended.

Among the most prominent of these much lamented signs of the times, according to some of the journals, is the tone of cynicism adopted by the press itself—nothing is good or true, and if by chance anything looks as if it were, the utmost ingenuity must be used in discovering the evil that necessarily lurks beneath the specious appearance of goodness.

Dr. Pusey, in a sermon upon Ash Wednesday, added his additional weight to the already turning scale by painting the present as indeed "a generation of vipers," and strengthening his denunciation by showing that the Pharisee, held up by the Scriptures as worthy of all execration, was immeasurably superior in virtue to the average citizen of the present day.

But it is upon much suffering womankind that the vials of wrath are poured without stint.

The fair, modest, true-hearted English lassie, so lovingly described in story and song in song, is, according to these authorities, entirely extinct, and her place has been supplied by a dame "loud and fast," who "talks horse," is "knowing on the subject of the races," dresses in an exaggeration of fashions which are themselves immodest, neglects all the home duties in order to "have a good time," and is generally lax upon the old established doctrines of social life.

A "Strike" Riot.

REPORTS from the coal regions show that the laborers are engaging in an extended and combined "strike." The cause of this movement is found in the fact that the operators refuse to consent to the eight-hour law. In other words, the employers decline to raise the wages of the employed twenty per cent., for this is about what the eight-hour law amounts to. They are willing to let the men work eight or six hours if they only take pay for the work done, but they are not willing to pay ten hours' wages for eight hours' work.

FROM ENGLAND.

Prince Alfred Inspects the Flag-Ship of Rear-Admiral Farragut.

LONDON, July 11.—His Royal Highness, Prince Alfred, R. N., commander of her Majesty's frigate Gaiety, arrived at Southampton, and on leave since his arrival at Australia, left Portsmouth on the 25th of June, left the royal residence this morning, and proceeded to the transport where he paid a complimentary visit to and made a professional inspection of the United States fleet, lying in the waters of the harbor, under command of Admiral Farragut.

Melancholy Death in Prison.

The New Haven (Conn.) Journal says:—John J. Beveridge, of Watford, aged 21 years, died at State Prison, Watford, yesterday. He was committed for stealing, but was pardoned by the Legislature, June 25. The State Prison Commission reported in favor of his pardon, he having been sent to prison for five years on very slight evidence of having stolen thirty-five dollars from a drunken sailor in this city, of which he protested his innocence. He was in prison fourteen months, and died without receiving his discharge. Governor English having neglected to sign it before going to New York, as is stated, he was re-arrested honorably in the second New York State Prison in Connecticut, was noted to Lieutenant. He was in nine battles and was captured and confined in a Rebel prison, where his sufferings broke down his constitution. He has been carefully considered, and expressed himself very bitterly with regard to his son's death, declaring that he died of grief and heart-ache, and that he was innocent of the crime with which he was charged.

The Freedmen in Kentucky.

The following has been addressed to General B. B. Burdick, Assistant Commissioner for Kentucky:—WAR DEPARTMENT, Bureau of R. F. and A. L. WASHINGTON, July 7.—Brevet Brigadier-General Sidney Burdick, Assistant Commissioner, Kentucky.—General:—Your plan for the reorganization and reduction of the Bureau in Kentucky has been carefully considered, and is hereby approved. You will carry the measure into effect on the 15th instant relieving such officers, and discharging such agents, as will not be needed, closing the hospital at Louisville, and establishing dispensaries if necessary, thus saving to the Government, according to your estimate, more than one-half the sum now disbursed for current expenses.

THE SEPARATION OF CHURCH AND STATE

in Europe is making rapid progress. Even in the Cabinet of Napoleon III. the doctrine is tolerated. In the course of his speech in the Corps Legislatif, M. Barodet, Minister of Justice, declared that it was only a question of time. Among the questions to be submitted to the Ecumenical Council of the Catholic Church at Rome next year will be one in regard to the policy of separating Church and State. It is found that the Roman Church is most flourishing in those countries, such as England and the United States, where it is not the established religion, as in France, Austria and Spain, in all of which it is losing its hold on the people.

NEW YORK GOSSIP.

Wear—The Master Reasons—New Order.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The following touching incident occurred at Tammany Hall immediately after the nomination. When the ballot had terminated, Mr. Tilden of New York, sought Mr. Seymour, and found him in one of the large ante-rooms of the Convention Hall, entirely alone, and with tears streaming from his eyes. "My God! Tilden, what shall I do? This is terrible!" exclaimed the reluctant one. The placid Tilden was equal to the occasion, and replied with something pertinent, if not original: "Sir, the Presidency has sought you, not you the Presidency, and you must make it." Consoler and consoled locked arms and sought more retired quarters.

At a meeting of master masons, held yesterday at the Mechanics' Exchange, one of their number said that he had procured all the men he required to complete his contracts simply by advertising for them; but that he was compelled to remain with them, at their work, to protect them against the violence of those now on strike—the advocates of the eight-hour system. Can it be possible that our police force is so ineffectual that workmen at their labor, in daylight and on the lines of our public streets, are unsafe and need special protection to earn honest wages when and how they choose?

On Thursday evening an exhibition of the merits of the Gatling battery gun was given at Fort Hamilton, in the presence of Major-General Franz Sigel, Brigadier-General Vogdes commanding the Fifth, Brigadier-General Griggin, and a number of other general officers interested in the improvement of firearms. The Gatling gun consists of ten barrels revolving on a common centre—is, in fact, a huge revolving rifle, mounted cannon fashion. The barrels are fired by a chamber, and the discharge is effected by simply turning a handle.

A HABEAS CORPUS.

The People of the State of New York in the matter of the Proceedings by Habeas Corpus in behalf of MARY ANN SMITH.—The petitioners of this case are somewhat peculiar, and will be interesting—so much so that we will briefly re-fer to them. The petitioners are a motherless girl, aged now about 18 years. At the instance of her father she was some time ago placed in the custody of the "Sisters," at the House of the Good Shepherd, a reformatory institution, located on the upper part of this island.
